Anthropological Literature is a bibliographic index to articles in journals and edited works received by the Tozzer Library, the anthropology library of Harvard University, as well as selected online and open access journals. The e-resource contains more than 710,000 records dating from the early 19th century to the present with 10,000 new records added each year, on a monthly basis.

Journals and monographic series currently indexed in the Anthropological Literature e-resource

Current: 28 October 2025

Many journals are now indexed from the electronic versions. Articles in the database indexed from print issues will have the print ISSN on them; once a journal has been converted to online indexing, the electronic ISSN is used. Users should try both ISSNs to ensure that all articles from a specific journal are retrieved.

The following list is for 653 current titles only. It does not include the names of numerous journals that have ceased publication or for which indexing has ceased. The e-resource does include the articles from journals and series that have ceased publication, and the older articles of some journals not indexed currently.
